INTERSECTION SAFETY IMPROVEMENTS—Robert W. Mosley, right, assistant traffic control and safety engineer for the Mississippi Highway Department, confers with Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett, center, and Bay Utilities Department Superintendent Bill Johnson, on improvements in traffic signals underway at the intersection of US-90 and North Beach Boulevard at the foot of the Bay St. Louis automobile bridge. A high accident rate at the location placed the signal improvements among the Highway Department's leading priorities, Mosley said. The new installation should be completed next week, weather permitting. Workers at left are among some 15 from the department on the job here this week. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

High accident rate brings action at Bay intersection

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The installation of semi-actuated signal lights at the intersection of US-90 and Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis by the State Highway Department should reduce a high accident rate at that location, according to Robert W. Mosley, assistant traffic control and safety engineer for the department.

The intersection at the foot of the bridge has been a severe traffic hazard, prompting Bay St. Louis mayor and council and also the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce to seek aid from the state.

"Bob Joiner, highway commissioner for the Southern District was sworn in Monday, Jan. 7 at 10 a.m. and at 3 p.m. he called me into his office and inquired about the status of the Bay St. Louis bridge signals as one of the first priorities," Mosley said.

"Our Department started several months ago with a traffic count at the intersection after we had received reports on the number of accidents and we began planning a solution to the need for a better and safer flow of traffic," Mosley commented Tuesday.

The traffic engineer emphasized that, "I do not want people to think the new installation of traffic controls will eliminate accidents at the bridge. We are doing the best we can to reduce the number of accidents, but drivers must drive defensively."

The safety engineer said the majority of the accidents were of the rear-end type. Of 11 rear-end accidents, six were caused by local drivers. Of ten right-angle accidents, eight were caused by local drivers, according to police reports.

The item which most concerned officials and which drivers complained about most was the fact that the signal lights were not tied down and could not be seen when swinging in the wind.

The State now has installed two new posts which will enable the new signals to be tied down.

"All the signals before were on two posts, and it takes stronger cable to tie the signals down. At this time with the two new posts we will tie the signals down and also place back plates to

Bay board closes doors, reviews 'legal matters'

By RICH ADAMS

The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School Board retreated into executive session Monday night to discuss 'legal matters,' according to Board Attorney Lucien Gex.

The board was expected Monday to discuss a $20,000 damage suit brought against the board and superintendent in August by parents and teachers of the district.

The secret session, which lasted little over 30 minutes, was requested on a motion by Board Member Betty Diboll, which was seconded by Maurice Singleton.

Prior to entering into the executive session, Board President Virginia Gex indicated by shaking her head that she would not give a reason for the closed-door meeting. However, Board Attorney Lucien Gex quickly noted the board would discuss "legal matters."

No action was taken during the executive session, Mrs. Gex reported. Also at Monday's meeting the board heard recommendations from the district's curriculum committee.

The committee, comprised of teachers from all district schools, recommended the district change from a six week grading period to a nine week term in order to become uniform with other Gulf Coast schools.

Superintendent J. D. McCullough said the change will allow transfer students to enter the district more smoothly due to the uniformity of grading periods.

"The greatest advantage to this grading system is it will allow us to issue an interim report to the parents every four weeks," McCullough said.

"If a student is having problems, the interim report will inform the parent that the student needs extra help in a certain area," he added.

On a motion by Diboll, seconded by Singleton, the board unanimously adopted the nine week grading system for the 1980-1981 school year.

McCullough also asked the board to approve a budget amendment for Title I materials in the amount of $941.

The superintendent said the money is already appropriated but is not reflected on the school budget the board adopted in May.

He said the money will be used for "additional testing services for the parochial schools in the district and additional instructional materials."

The board unanimously approved the budget amendment.

In other business the board adopted a

Compretta introduces three bills

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Hancock County's State Representative J.P. Compretta has introduced three House bills for consideration by the Ways and Means Committee.

"Committee assignments were made Tuesday and until the bills are assigned to committees, there is no way of knowing what is what," Compretta said Wednesday.

"One bill I've introduced is to allow a person with a small business in his home to claim up to 50 percent homestead exemption. In the past, small businessmen could not claim

TRAILER RUINS—This is all that is left of a trailer on US-90 in St. Tammany, La. just outside Pearlport which a 13-year-old and her nine-year-old sister allegedly set ablaze in an attempt to kill their parents. Child sentenced after murder-arson attempt

A 13-year-old St. Tammany Parish girl was sentenced to spend not more than two years in the Louisiana Training Institute after she and her nine-year-old sister allegedly tried to kill their parents in a trailer just west of Pearlport on US-90.

District Judge Thomas Tanner Monday heard charges of aggravated arson and attempted murder filed against the girls after St. Tammany Sheriff's deputies found the mobile home of Truett and Glenda Simpson burned Saturday morning.

The couple suffered second- and third-degree burns over 45 percent of their bodies in the 3 a.m. fire.

Officials thought at first that the two children were in the trailer, but later discovered the girls had driven the family car to New Orleans children's home. The sheriff's department said the 13-year-old had previously been sent to the home.

After discussions with the children, deputies determined the girls had set fire to the mobile home after their parents had gone to sleep.

The girls had allegedly discussed various methods of killing their parents, including shooting, stabbing, or cutting off their heads with a carving knife.

Authorities said the two had argued with their parents earlier Saturday and had decided to run away from home.

Tanner said both girls had admitted attempting to kill their parents during questioning Saturday morning.

"After questioning the 13-year-old, I decided she knew what she was being charged with and the consequences of those charges," Tanner said.

The judge said, however, the nine-year-old did not seem to know what she was being charged with or the consequences of what she had done.

"She does know right from wrong, but is not aware of the law and its

Garcia pleads guilty in BaySide rape case

By EDGAR PEREZ

A 24-year-old BaySide Park man whose diagnosed schizophrenic behavior may have been drug-induced was given a 5-year prison sentence Monday after pleading guilty to rape.

Fritz Garcia was sentenced by Senior Judge Leslie B. Grant on the opening day of the January term of Hancock County Circuit Court.

In other business, a 20-member grand jury was empaneled for the 3-week term.

Garcia had been in custody since being accused of the July 13, 1978, rape of a BaySide woman.

Doctors at the Mississippi State Hospital at Whitfield, where Garcia was sent for a court-ordered mental examination last July diagnosed his condition as suffering from schizophrenia, schizo-affective type.

"We are mindful of his extensive and excessive drug use, especially with phencyclidine (PCP, 'angel dust')," wrote Dr. Donald C. Guild, director of forensic psychosis could exactly mimic the schizophrenic diagnosis.

It was determined that Garcia was legally competent to stand trial.

Trial was to be held Monday and a petit jury was picked, but Garcia, accompanied by his attorney, Richard Yarbrough, entered a guilty plea. If convicted by a jury, Garcia faced a possible life imprisonment term.

twice, once because the state's prosecuting witness was seven months pregnant, and again when his attorney was unable to make needed communication with his client, who was at Whitfield.

A total of 195 civil cases and 45 criminal cases were on the docket as the court term opened.

Sworn in as foreman of the grand jury was Richard F. Patterson, a Lakeshore resident who is assistant manager at the TG&Y department store in Waveland.

Others empaneled on the grand jury include: Dianne M. Adams, Elementary Teacher, Waveland; Catherine R. Lohman, practical nurse, Clermont Harbor; Cynthia E. Schoonmaker, waitress, Waveland; David H. Adams, floral designer, Bay St. Louis; Zelida L. (Mrs. Humphrey) Ferrell, factory operator, Waveland; Barbara K. (Mrs. Eric Jr.)

Larsen, teacher aide, Kiln; Toni F. Leas, Gulfport area supervisor-purchaser corp., Lakeshore; Odie Wayne Ladner, welder, Perkins; George E. Ladner, Jr., REA linesman, Pearlport; and Dosson L. Lee, Baptist minister, Picayune.

Also Elaine E. Lizana, housewife, Pass Christian; Alvin J. Walsh, Jr., electrician, Lakeshore; Susan L. Ladner, receiving clerk, Fenton; Eleanor M. Donahue, secretary, Diamondhead; Francis C. Koopman, engineer, Bay St. Louis; Galen C. Myers, electronic technician, Bay St. Louis; Lula Tops, housewife, Pearlport; Lee E. Morris, program aide, Waveland; and Wanda V. Green, housewife, Waveland.

The Grand Jury completed its tour of county government facilities Wednesday, and was expected to return its findings to Judge Grant sometime Thursday.

Drugs, paraphernalia located in Bay marsh

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Bay St. Louis police received a call Monday reporting discovery of a quantity of pills and needles in the marsh across the harbor from the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, according to Chief Douglas Williams.

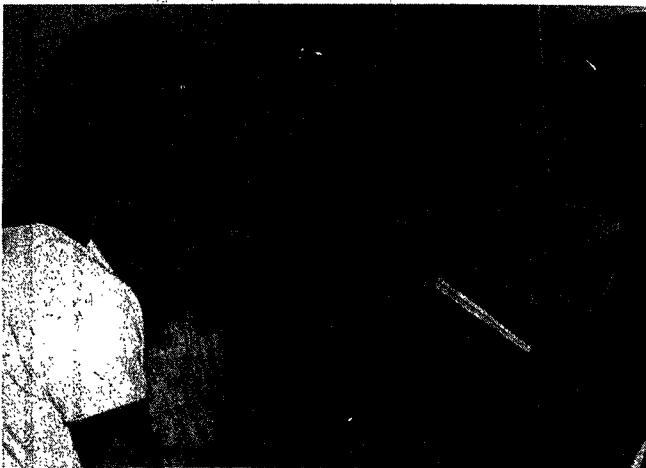

Investigator Jir Mallini and Officer Larry Ladner found at the scene a bag containing pills, needles, numerous amounts of pills along the marsh and beach. They also found two packages of capsules marked morphine, the chief said.

Police in checking identified the items as among those taken last week in a burglary from a Waveland Drug Store last week, Williams reported. Assisting the Bay police were Waveland investigators and Hancock County sheriff's deputies. The case is still under investigation.

Chief Williams, commenting about the information called to his office, said, "The Police Department wish to thank the citizen for reporting finding those items."

"The police are on duty 24 hours a day and whenever anyone sees anything unusual, we appreciate a call. Citizen help can help the police department in making our jobs work a lot more effective. A telephone call is all that is needed," Williams added.

Construction lull cited for Bay area vancancies

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Major Bay St. Louis apartment management firms have attributed a current rental slump to a lull in the construction industry in addition to the fact January is usually a high vacancy period.

"This is a natural attrition thing. For about the last three or four months we've had a lot of people who have left, making it a slow rental season," said Robert Kane of John McDonald Realty.

"The recent vacancies we've experienced have been from tenants working in the construction industry. The construction industry has slowed down and a few people working in that industry have had to move," Kane said. "My tenants are your more permanent people with our big rental units being four-plexes and single family dwellings," Kane stated.

"We keep our rentals moderate to keep people but, in the last year or so some of our apartments have become vacant. This happens every once and a while but, we've had to evict more people than normal... things are tight," Kane added.

"Our moderate to lower income apartments have rented very well. Our higher priced rentals don't rent quite as fast as the lower to moderate priced apartments," Kane explained.

"Several years ago we would have had several sheets of apartment listings but right now I only have about six," Kane said.

Longo says:

Waveland sewer system now financially sound

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Although 1978 utility fiscal reports show deficits in sewer, water and gas services, Waveland Mayor John Longo reports his city is on firm financial ground with the sewer system now generating surplus funds.

Moore and Powell audits, recently accepted by the Board of Aldermen, show a working capital net decrease of $91,617 for the city's sewer system and $1,850 decrease for water and gas operations.

Retained earnings for the city's sewer system show a $180,075 deficit and a $83,419 deficit shown for water and gas retained earnings.

"This year the sewer fund is operating with a substantial, $14,000 surplus," Longo said.

"The problem with the sewer system was that the initial project ran twice over the anticipated cost. We promised the people a monthly charge of $6.75 and we lived with that for five years, then we went up $2," Longo explained.

"The city bit the bullet for a while and we had to transfer $100,000 from the general fund to the sewer fund," Longo explained.

"I'll guarantee two years and possibly five years where we'll be on safe ground unless something unexpected happens," Longo said.

Longo is confident the sewer fund will eventually be able to reimburse the general fund and added, "It's a blessing the city has these reserve funds. If the city could not invest in itself it would be a bad situation."

In regard to the water and gas report Longo said, "The city keeps 24 funds and somewhere one fund will run under and one will run over. If the city needs operating funds you can adjust funds where permitted by law," Longo stated.

"These funds for various city budgets have to come from somewhere and if we can take surplus money from one fund to another rather than imposing taxes on our citizens, that's sound management," Longo said.

The cover letter on the 1978 water and gas audit from Moore and Powell states, "Inventories of materials and supplies are not taken at the end of each year and consequently are not included in the balance sheet; nor are the differences in the beginning and ending inventories of these items reflected in the statement of income."

"We don't carry capital assets for depreciation because we are a tax free entity and this would mean nothing toward revenue," Longo explained.

Both audits also state there is an $800 per month management and fee adjustment included in the report.

"The $800 fee adjustment, which amounted to $20,000 or more, was included by the accountant since we didn't have a sewer office and handled that business through the utility system," Longo explained.

"We ran this for four to five years, but no one ever drew a salary for this so we just wiped it out... we no longer say we have a sewer or water fee for office management and space," Longo added.

requirements," Tanner stated. The judge said he will hold another hearing on the younger child in about two weeks to determine if she will be kept there or sent to another facility for mental care.

Tanner said although he would make the ultimate decision as to how long the girl would remain in custody, officials of the institute will make recommendations as to the length of sentence.

The magistrate said there is no chance of either of the girls being tried as adults since the law requires juveniles be at least 15 years of age in those cases.

The Simpsons were taken to the intensive care unit of West Jefferson General Hospital Saturday.

Mrs. Simpson was reported in guarded condition Monday and her husband was said by hospital officials to be in fair condition.

UNSEEN FACTORS

When you consider buying a home in a new locality, you'll want to know as much about the town and neighborhood as possible. Much of this information you can get from "eyeballing" the area, but there are important factors which the eye cannot see.

For example, local property taxes, public services, hospitals, churches, community facilities. What are the zoning restrictions? Are there any unusual deed restrictions common to the area on how you might use, alter, or expand your property? What are the future prospects for the neighborhood?

A good local Realtor can be a quarry of such information. He should have a feeling born of the familiarity for the specific neighborhoods in his territory. Level with him at the outset about what you want and he'll do his darnedest to help you find it. That's what he's there for.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at PRESSMAN REALTY, 1332 Hwy. 90 W., Waveland. Phone 467-2224. We're here to help!

BLENDING TRADITION AND PROGRESS

In 1920, Ernest T. Riemann, Sr. and Mrs. Ruth Riemann, came to the Gulf Coast and began what is now Riemann Funeral Homes. Spanning three generations, Riemann has expanded its facilities and services.

From our first location on 25th Ave. in Gulfport, we built the first Riemann chapel in Pass Christian in 1946 and in 1961, the original Fahey business of Bay St. Louis was bought and is now operated as Riemann-Fahey. The construction of our Long Beach Chapel was completed in 1962 and our Edgewater Chapel established in 1963. The Riemann Insurance Company headquarters building was built in 1964 and our Riemann Memorial Chapel on Highway 49 North in Gulfport in 1976.

For 60 years, we have been dedicated to keeping our services and facilities up to date. While we are proud of our equipment, we know that funeral service is a matter of people helping people. Blending tradition and progress has been the Riemann way for 60 years.

We make the same commitment to the future.

The speaker today will be Sallie Anne Kittle. Kittle, wife and mother of four daughters, is from Meridian Miss. Her husband is an instructor of chemistry at Meridian Junior College.

She is past Recording Secretary and Treasurer of the Meridian Women's AGLOW. She has shared the word of God in testimony, teaching and song at women's luncheon groups, Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship meetings, in church and home prayer groups throughout the south.

Her desire is to teach people to be all that the Word says they can be, to do all that the Word says that they can do, and to have all that the Word says that they can have.

Although she is a teacher by profession she claims her best training for teaching the Word was from teaching Sunday School for two through five years old for four years.

She was sovereignly saved in a hospital room six years ago, having never heard the gospel and was gloriously healed and baptized in the Holy Spirit two weeks later. Since then she and her family have had opportunity to prove God faithful to His Word in every area for their lives.

Each year at this time hundreds of young girls in the area call on their neighborhood friends taking orders for Girl Scout cookies.

This one big drive is the really big one for Girl Scouts to raise monies for the operation of the Gulf Pines District.

So, we suggest that when the girl scout in your neighborhood calls, you will be generous in giving her a sizeable order.

Action in the Bay High Annual Basketball Tourney started yesterday, but the really big action still is to come.

The championship games will be played Saturday following preliminaries today and Friday working up to the final day. We hope there will be big turnout of fans for the three remaining days of action.

In the boys division, there will be Bay High, Hancock North Central, Pass Christian, St. Stanislaus, St. Martin and East Central.

Making up the brackets for girls are Pass Christian, East Central, St. Martin, Bay High, Our Lady's Academy, Ocean Springs and Hancock North Central.

The girl championship game will be at 7 p.m. Saturday followed by the boys at 8:30 p.m.

We will say in our opinion that Hancock North Central will probably take the tourney for both boys and girls, but in basketball one can never be sure of the outcome.

Talking about basketball, we have to take our hat off to Coach Roland Ladner and his Hancock North Central Hawks for bringing home the top trophy in the boys division of the Harrison Central Tourney.

The Hawks defeated one of the best high school teams in the finals when they toppled Gulfport (by the way, a big Eight team) 75-70.

Congratulations to Joye Lee of the Hawkettes and Moses Hill and Bryan Ladner of the Hawks for being selected to the all tourney team.

There are many men and women of our community involved in Scouting.

These folks are very generous in devoting some of their spare time to the young boys and girls of our area in teaching them many meaningful skills.

There is now a big drive on for the formation of more Scouting troops, packs, dens, etc. There are many kids available but only a handful of adult helpers.

In a recent conversation with our new Sheriff Ronnie Peterson, he commented on how few boy or girl scouts ever visit across the street from his office in pointing at the Youth Court building.

If you are interested in the youth of our Community, we are sure your help would be appreciated.

MISSISSIPPI ECONOMIC COUNCIL — THE STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

THE RESULTS OF ANTI-GROWTH POLICIES

News reports in recent weeks reveal that the United States has fallen from its long-held, enviable position of being the most productive nation in the world to somewhere in the middle.

This dubious distinction placed us well down on the ladder under other industrialized countries — countries which we helped retrieve from the ruins of World War II.

Private enterprise in the United States registered a scant 0.3 percent increase in productivity in 1978 compared with a yearly gain of more than 3 percent between 1957 and 1967 or the 1.8 percent gain posted between 1967 and 1977.

Our current position on the productivity ladder — according to the United States Industrial Council — can be blamed on the anti-growth policies pursued by the federal government.

Productivity — one of our best but often neglected weapons against inflation — depends on investment — investment in new plants, new equipment, and in the development of new technologies. Washington skins off investment capital through high taxes then diverts it into non-productive channels.

A 1977 Commerce Department study revealed that technological innovation was responsible for 45 percent of the nation's growth between 1929 and 1969 and that high-technology companies create jobs 88 percent faster than low-technology companies.

But the decade of the seventies witnessed a shift of resources from production to regulation. Compliance with federal regulations — estimate to take about $10 billion of new private capital to satisfy — threatens output, growth, and employment which curtails the creation of new technologies.

The Mississippi Economic Council recommends that we reorder our priorities to increase productivity. Congress should enact no additional regulatory measures of permit existing agencies to issue additional regulations until the economic impact of such measures is determined and benefits to be derived are shown to be greater than the costs of compliance — costs borne by the consuming public. Miss. Economic Council.

OVER CROWDED CONDITIONS — A storage room adjacent to the Hancock County Jail caught fire Sunday morning. The room was filled with outdoor motor gasoline cans, paint buckets, brushes, rollers, etc. Cause of the fire was attributed to gas fumes being ignited by a hot water heater in the same room. Quick action by a county deputy with a fire extinguisher had the flames under control quickly. Sheriff Ronnie Peterson says this fire shows the need for additional space and more facilities at the courthouse. The sheriff, custodian of the courthouse and responsible for its upkeep, needs a place to store paints, etc. A storage room across the street is rented for storage but the sheriff says it will not hold everything, as his department is recovering stolen items just about every day. He has to hold them until proper identification can be made and in many instances he has to keep them until court is held. We feel that now would be a good time for us to realize the importance of a new jail for Hancock County.

Yesterday concluded my service in the State Treasury Department. During the four years I have served as Treasurer, I have had the benefit of the advice, counsel, and support of the financial institutions of our State. The banking profession has been most helpful to me as state treasurer. Their advice and counsel has been unselfish and they have always considered the welfare of our State and our people first. Mississippi is fortunate to have bankers who recognize that good citizenship is a professional responsibility.

I thank the banking professionals of this state for their assistance, their friendship, and their effort on behalf of our state.

During the calendar year 1979, the Treasury Department earned a total of $35,524,347 in interest on funds invested by the state treasurer.

The Treasury Department on December 31, 1979 had invested in general fund monies $226,279,000.

On special fund investments, such as bond proceeds, and other designated special funds, the Treasury Department maintained investments on December 31, 1979 of $245,509,894.

Interest earned on special funds totaled $21,961,582. Interest on general fund investments totaled $13,562,764.65.

It appears that some of our universities are considering extending credit to foreign students, specifically Iranian students, for the winter semester.

I urge the universities, the Boards of Trustees, and all others concerned to refuse credit to Iranian students.

If they can't pay the tuition costs, certainly they ought not to be registered as students.

President Carter has frozen Iranian assets and it is extremely doubtful that any loans made to these students will ever be collected by the universities.

To extend credit to Iranian students is to ignore the wishes of the people of this state and credit should not be extended.

Hancock County
UNICEF Collection
c/o Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Mr. Cuevas:

The care and concern for needy children demonstrated by your UNICEF Halloween program is a powerful kind of reaching out. Your efforts have made a difference, and of that you can be very proud.

In the coming year, your contribution and that of other across the county will work to help UNICEF expand services for children in the greatest need, and to respond to child emergencies, such as the one in Cambodia.

There, the present generation now has a chance to survive malnutrition and disease and grow up to rebuild their country.

In Indonesia, a family nutrition program assisted by UNICEF will continue operating in 19,000 villages to test children and mothers for nutritional deficiencies and offer treatment.

UNICEF contributions designated for Ghana will help support the education and training of women and girls by providing supplies and equipment to teach food preparation and storage and home improvement skills.

A pilot project in Ecuador which established community centers for preschool children will be expanded to reach more of the poorest urban and rural areas, with UNICEF assisting in training staff for the centers.

These UNICEF-assisted projects, and others in some 100 countries, are evidence of what can be accomplished when individuals and communities in our country reach out through UNICEF to families and communities in the poorer nations of the world.

We at the U.S. Committee are grateful for your initiative in bringing the UNICEF message to your community and leading others in the Halloween fund raising program.

To you and everyone involved in your campaign, I extend our most heartfelt thanks.

SUBJECT: Mississippi's Higher Gas Prices

Dear Sir:

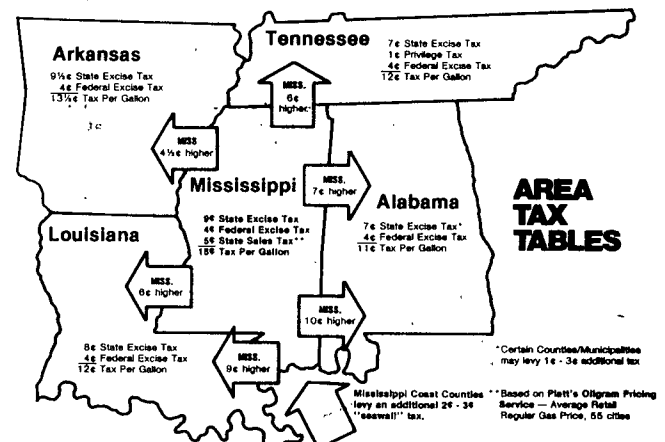

We are frequently asked, "Why are Mississippi's gas prices higher than our neighboring states?" Enclosed you will find the answer.

Mississippi's state and federal taxes combine for the highest such levy in the region. In fact, we are probably the highest in the United States on the combination of state and federal taxes. We thought you find this chart of interest.

VA increase 'deceiving'

Jan. 10, 1980
Re: 9.9 percent increase in VA checks, (Jan. 10, 1980)
Editor:
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

You are to be commended for your editorial policy of publishing information for Veterans.

Since this information is in the form of quotes by officers of the VA, perhaps even statistics by independent surveys, and more and more of our 30 million veterans are seeking medical care at VA facilities, it shows only one side of the proposition, the VA's.

Considering the billions it cost us to see the other side of the moon, a moment and some space isn't too much to ask in order to show the Veteran's side.

Being 10 or 30 or 50 percent disabled doesn't mean that the Veteran gets a payoff.

Being medically pronounced disabled by the VA's Department of Medicine and Surgery doesn't mean that the Veteran will be paid off either.

The burden of proof by private physician is on the Veteran.

The burden of proof, even that said disability is service connected, is up to the Veteran.

And even if all the need for proof is satisfied compensation might still be denied.

Why? Because adjudication is not bound by the evaluations of the Department of Medicine and Surgery. In fact, wording of Sec 211a prevents any one, even the court, from reviewing, "Decision on fact or law," by the director. And that means decisions by adjudication.

About $48 is a day's pay for skilled labor so it can't represent 10 percent of a man's earning ability.

And since it is supposed to compensate for loss — There is precious little difference between 90 percent and 10 disability yet, the rating scale indicates a 100 percent differential in monetary compensation...alone.

9.9 percent increase is deceiving — like the difference between half empty and half full.

Keep up the good work, sir. We need our Veterans Administration...reformed.

Sincerely yours,
Lawrence E. Parker

Cathy Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Evans Jr. of Bay St. Louis received a bachelor of arts degree in mid-winter graduation exercises Dec. 15 at Southeastern Louisiana University, Hammond.

As a freshman, she was a University Dancer. In April, 1979, she was inducted into the education honor society, Kappa Delta Pi. She was also a member of Circle K Club, attending international convention in Chicago.

For two years prior to attending international convention in Chicago, Hammond and Pontchartroula, La.

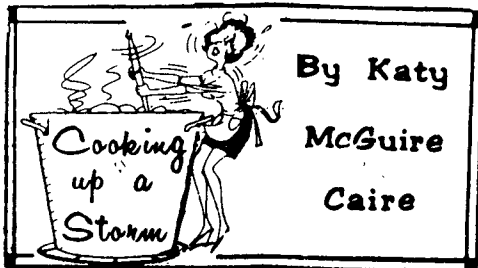

She is presently seeking a position as an elementary teacher.

Among those attending the

All attended a graduation luncheon at China Inn, Hammond.

Afterwards, the Evans family and Lisa Mason continued to New Orleans to attend a party honoring Cathy Evans, Emily Lofaso, Leslie Kilgore, Carol McGoey, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elden McGoey, Kenner, La.

How would you like a "Toad in the Hole" on your dinner table today? How's that for an "ugh-ugh" name for a tasty dish of meat in a batter overcoat, so dear to the Englishman's palate?

'Twas 'round the turn of the century, I believe, that this dish gained such popularity in Britain... when a cut of round or other beef steak, diced, was put into a buttered casserole, covered with a batter and baked.

Through the years the original recipes have been changed here and there, some cooks using hamburger, others sausage.

I like the sausage version best, I think. Here's

TOAD IN THE HOLE

1 lb. small link sausages
1 cup milk
2 eggs
1 cup flour (all purpose)
1/2 tsp. salt, dash of pepper
1 Tbsp. butter, melted

Brown the sausage well, until the fat is rendered, then drain and place in a well-buttered baking dish.

Mix well the milk, eggs, flour, salt and pepper, and butter, beating together as you would any batter, or blend for a minute or so in a blender.

Pour the batter over the sausages and bake in a 400 degree oven (uncovered) for a half hour, or until the batter puffs up and crisps to a golden brown.

Some cooks like to use sausages and ground beef in equal proportions... and I must confess that I often "hotten it up" as the old cooks used to say, with generous splashes of hot pepper sauce, adding some chopped onions and green peppers as well.

Longo named to Miss. College Dean's List

Steven Michael Longo of Waveland has been named to the Dean's List at Mississippi College in Clinton for the first semester of the academic year.

Dr. Charles Martin, vice-president for Academic Affairs at the Clinton institution, announced the names of those students who had maintained a 3.5 or better grade point average based on a 4.0 system. Of the 27 students named to the list, 112 recorded straight "A" averages.

In order to be eligible for the Dean's List, a student must be taking a full course load of 12 semester hours. Selection is based upon grades received in academic work only.

USM slates first 1980 Art Center performance

The first Art Center Series event for 1980 will be a Jan. 17 performance by solo dancer Annabelle Bamson set for 8 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center at the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg.

Gamson, while creating her own choreography, explores and reconstructs the early days of modern dance through the works of Isadora Duncan and Mary Wigman.

"I'm very happy with the dancing that has come before me and with the many beautiful steps that were handed down to me," she said in a recent Dancemagazine interview.

Dance critics have called her "a powerhouse performer" and a "dancer-actress of commanding energy and accomplishment," who has performed at many prestigious dance festivals. The American Dance Festival, the New York Dance Umbrella and Jacob's Pillow. She was also featured on public television's "Dance in America" series.

At USM Gamson will present six dances including: "Waltzes" choreographed by Duncan with music by Brahms; "Guilandes" choreographed by Gamson with music from Alexander Scriabin's Opus 73; and "Agave" also by Gamson with music by Eliot Carter.

After the intermission the final three pieces will be "First Movement" with music by W.A. Mozart; "Dances of Death" with music from Dmitri Shostakovich's Symphony No. 14 and the "Blue Danube Waltzes" with music by Strauss. The first two dances are choreographed by Gamson, the final one by Duncan.

Born in New York of Russian parents, Gamson began studying dance at the age of five. She lists as one of her primary interests "to see the great works of the past preserved and performed." For tickets call the PAC box office (286-7400) Jan. 15-17 from 2:30-5:30 p.m.

Headaches that persist or reoccur frequently are danger signals that something is amiss. Masking the pain with aspirin or pain killers may seem an easy way for relief, however if the trouble is not corrected, related symptoms begin to appear. Usually the headaches that used to present themselves in different areas begin to localize in one area or one side of the head, and the patient's illness is diagnosed as migraine. After extensive examinations for tumors, past fractures and what have you, the patient begins to believe that they just have to live with it. Don't believe it. Never forget that for every effect there must be a cause. Remove the cause and you have no headaches.

Shuttle testing delayed again

By RICH ADAMS
An unexpected amount of pressure on a heat shield of the problem-plagued space shuttle main propulsion system at the National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County has caused an estimated two week delay in test firing of the three engines, according to Public Affairs Director Mack Herring.

A firing of the cluster which was slated at the test site Wednesday was cancelled when scientists analyzing data from a successful Dec. 16 firing discovered the flaw in the structure, Herring reported.

The order to postpone the testing came from the National Space and Aeronautics Administration's Marshall Flight Center in Huntsville and NASA's headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Officials from Huntsville and Washington determined struts holding the heat shields could not withstand the additional pressure being exerted by the engines and ordered the flaw be corrected.

"We plan to strengthen the heat shield structural supports to withstand the expected pressure and continue analysis to determine the cause of the increased pressure," said Robert E. Lindstrom, manager of the shuttle projects office in Washington.

Lindstrom said further tests may be delayed for two weeks.

Last month's successful firing, which was sustained for more than nine minutes, was the first successful three-engine firing since the program began at NSTL.

Using a complex system of hoists and counterweights required to simulate the weightless conditions of space, crewmen practiced opening the 3,264-pound door of the shuttle to allow heat that has built up during launching to radiate into space.

Since Columbia went into simulated orbit Monday, the prime and backup crews and other astronauts have been participating in the test, officials said.

CLOSE CALL - A fire in a store room Sunday in a building adjacent to the Hancock County jail was extinguished with a fire extinguisher by a quick acting deputy. Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said the storage room has been cleaned out and the old buckets, etc. were taken to the dump. The storage room was used to keep paint, rollers, etc. for use by the sheriff's office in the maintenance of the courthouse. The sheriff's department is custodian of the facilities and suffers from a lack of storage space. (Staff photo - Gerald Richmond)

The resulting documentary, "Joan Robinson: One Woman's Story," is an intimate record of a woman, her husband, her doctor and her friends trying to cope with the anguish of terminal illness. The two-and-one-half-hour documentary can be seen at 8 p.m., Monday, Jan. 21, on the Mississippi ETV Network. A half-hour follow-up can be seen at 10:30 p.m. At age 41, Mrs. Robinson was dying of cancer and wanted her story to be told.

Adult assistance sought in child library outreach

Exploring the world of literature is an exciting and fulfilling experience, as many children who visit their public libraries discover every day. But what of those children who don't come to the library?

This problem is encountered by children's librarians everywhere, who find that their clientele are mainly children who already are readers and are actively seeking out more books to read.

The small staffs in the children's sections cannot, by themselves, instill the love of books and literature in all the children of their community. In order to correct this situation, a program of Sparing Literature with Children is being launched by the Hancock County Library System.

Because of the impossibility of a small staff reaching every child in Hancock County, they will be attempting to reach those adults who work with children: day care aides, Head Start teachers, Sunday School teachers, Scout leaders, babysitters, parents, service and social clubs, etc.

For each group, Ms. Schwabacher will conduct an informal workshop designed to inspire and motivate the adults to share literature with children.

"We learned of it in a film from the Orlando Public Library," said Ms. Sherry Schwabacher of Bay St. Louis, who will be directing the program.

"The program began in the Children's Department there in 1971. The staff was searching for a way to reach it's total child population of 85,000."

"Fewer and fewer parents are reading to their children and this may be the only way of reaching some of them," she said.

The program is already underway and one workshop has already been given. Individuals and groups interested in arranging for a workshop should call Prima Wunsack or Sherry Schwabacher at 467-5282.

McGehee named ABFP diplomate

Dr. Helen G. McGehee of Waveland has been named a diplomate of the American Board of Family Practice (ABFP) as a result of passing a certification examination offered by the ABFP. She is now certified in the medical specialty of family practice.

An intensive two-day written examination is designed to prove a candidate's ability in the areas of internal medicine, surgery, obstetrics, gynecology, pediatrics, psychiatry and community medicine.

To qualify for the examination a physician must have successfully completed three years of residency training in family practice. There are some 375 such training programs in teaching hospitals and university medical centers across the United States.

ABFP diplomates also must continue to show proof of competence in the field of comprehensive, continuing care of the family by being recertified every six years. No other medical specialty requires diplomates to prove competence on a continuing basis.

The latest group of diplomates bring the total number to more than 22,000. Most are members of the Academy of Family Physicians (The National Association of Family Doctors).

The Academy was the first national Medical Doctor group to require members to take continuing medical study, and was chiefly responsible for securing specialty status for family practice.

This year is the tenth anniversary of the specialty.

NEW STEEPLE ROOF—James Harvill views final or crowning ornament just placed atop the Main Street United Methodist Church steeple in Bay St. Louis. Harvill an employee of Dillman Roofing, Tuesday placed the gold finial atop the steeple newly roofed with lead coated copper. The Main Street United Methodist Church building's construction began in 1895. It is the oldest church building in the country. A scaffold had to be constructed in order for the roofers to place ladders to reach the top of the steeple. The entire church roof has been replaced by Dillman. (Staff photo—Ellis Cuevas)

Nerieds' ball, tableaux scheduled for Coliseum

The Krewe of Nerieds, will hold its annual ball and tableaux at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum in Biloxi. The krewe's 14th annual ball will be on the evening of Jan. 26, the parade in Waveland on Sunday, Feb. 10.

Nerieds is moving the ball from Our Lady's Academy gym to accommodate a larger crowd. The gym held approximately 500 people; this year, a seating capacity of at least 2,000 will be needed to satisfy the demands of the 120-member female organization.

This year's parade will not be affected and will remain on Coleman Avenue in Waveland's old business district.

A spokesman for the organization says it has no plans to change the parade route in the future, but will be subject to what happens at this year's outing. In the early years, the female members—with help from some males—built and decorated their own floats. However, as the parade increased in size, Nerieds contracted 11 years ago with float designer Edward Scanlon of New Orleans, who has been building the floats since then.

It is at the ball and tableau that the identity of this year's king and his dukers will be made public. Although the queen and her maids will accompany the king, their identities will not be revealed by the organization.

The krewe was originally a Waveland-based organization and admitted only members from Waveland, but later the charter was amended to include members from the Bay St. Louis area.

Royale and Louisville Garden Apartments in Bay St. Louis, said, "This time of year you'll formally have a lot of job transfers, especially tenants with children who move during Christmas and New Year's holidays."

Bay Royale and Louisville have both placed newspaper advertisements recently offering $100 off the first month's rent.

"I don't know if it's unusual to have vacancies because we've always experienced a drop off this time of year and we're experiencing the same thing more so in Harrison County," Ellis said.

"We experienced a drop in occupancy when DuPont completed their construction and also when a store recently burned in Pass Christian which employed several of our tenants," Ellis explained.

"We're not worried about the rental market but, it's not strong enough to support the construction of additional units," Ellis stated.

Ellis reiterated that the loss of DuPont construction personnel was a major factor in recent apartment vacancies and said, "The market is down but we anticipate an upswing in rentals in February and March."

Polly McIver, who has been managing Louisville for about two weeks, said, "A lot of test site people are being transferred out of the area and others may be moving into homes."

David Shamin, manager of Bay Royale, said, "In December you will usually lose a lot of people and also so many houses are available to rent. When rental homes are filled then we usually begin to rent more of our apartments."

"We've got a few vacancies and we've got more than I should really have," Shamin said.

"Our construction people are moving out along with some tenants from National Space Technology Laboratories (NSTL). The majority of new tenants have been from NSTL and DuPont. NSTL has been very cooperative in placing prospective tenants but, DuPont has not been very cooperative," Shamin added.

insure visibility of the signals," Mosley allowed.

The total package will cost $15,000, according to Mosley, in labor and materials, saying it should take about 10 days to do all the work, weather permitting.

Fred Kyle, assistant traffic control and safety engineer for the State Highway Department, was on the site for several days as he specializes in the installation of signals.

Joe Dorman is the signal superintendent of the project, with personnel which includes signal technicians and equipment operators.

The Signal technicians assigned to the Coast are also helping, according to Mosley.

The new signals will all be 12 inches in size, and a highly reflective material has been installed as stop lines on all approaches.

Mosley said there will not be a protected left turn on US-90 East because of a lack of sufficient traffic count during the study.

"A person will be able to turn on the green light after yielding for the west bound traffic. There is enough pauses in the west traffic to allow left turns unprotected," Mosley said.

The safety engineer said that during the study there were only five cars per hour making a left turn off 90 East at the bridge.

The new signals when completed will give more green time for East and West traffic on US-90 Mosley stated.

"A person traveling on Beach Boulevard or making a left turn from 90 West must approach the white line to activate the signal change," Mosley said.

Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett was very happy Tuesday to see the work being done, commenting, "I wish to thank Mr. Joiner for his efforts in getting this project completed. He acted on it the first day he was sworn into office as he had promised a few weeks before the election."

"I appreciate the work Mr. Mosley and the Highway Department was doing, it is something I am very happy to see being done."

Bay St. Louis will move some shrubs from North Beach to North Second St., and also signs in the North West quadrant of the intersection.

The historical marker has been relocated; also there will be new warning signs for both east and west bound traffic and the repair of the flasher signal sign by this Friday, according to Mosley.

Rotary elects

80-81 officers

Thomas E. Hitchcock has been elected to serve as president of the Bay-Waveland Rotary Club from July, 1980 through June, 1981.

Other officers are Ellis Cuevas, vice-president; James Watts, secretary-treasurer; Hugh Miller, sergeant-at-arms.

Current president Dick Kosbab will serve with James A. Evans, James R. Ginn, Randle N. Hutton and Ames Kergosen as directors.

The new officers will be sworn in July. The Bay-Waveland Rotary meets every Wednesday at noon at Wheel-Inn Restaurant.

New VA disability, pension law explained

A new disability and death pension law for veterans and their widows and children went into effect Jan. 1, 1979.

Mike Ladner, service officer for Hancock County said many claimants who could possibly qualify for the benefits are not making application. This is possibly due to a wealth of erroneous information which is being repeated concerning this new law.

The law does not contain specific annual income limits to which a claimant should be aware, and these apply to veterans as well as to their surviving widows and children.

In many instances, however, claimants are not aware that the countable income for Veterans pension Administration pension purposes may be reduced by reporting the family medical expense.

If a veteran or a widow is a patient in a nursing home, for example, the amount of his or her own funds which are used to pay for such care can be excluded by the VA in determining eligibility for pension.

Likewise, if a child of a veteran is in a state school or other institution, and his or her income from Social Security or other sources is being used to pay for such care, the amount used for this purpose can be used by the VA to establish pension eligibility.

Even though the annual income limits are rather severe under the new pension law, it is suggested that all veterans and widows, when financial help is needed, should make every effort to discuss the matter with their local Veterans Service Officer.

A decision as to eligibility can be made only after competent counseling has been accomplished in every case.

petition and resolution to City of Bay St. Louis requesting short-term notes in the amount of $56,000 to purchase three new school buses.

McCullough said the buses cost $18,000 each without extras required by the State Department of Education, and added those extras will cost approximately $2,000.

On a motion by Diboll, seconded by Singleton, the board unanimously adopted the resolution.

McCullough also announced a quarterly Coast school board meeting, attended by representatives of all Mississippi Gulf Coast school districts, will be conducted Jan. 24 at 7 p.m. in the Bay High cafeteria.

That meeting is open to the public, the superintendent said.

The board's next regularly scheduled meeting is at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 11.

MRS. WILLIE ANGES BERTHELOT holds a 27-pound Jack Craville she caught in Bayou Cadet with her two grandchildren, Danielle and Micheal Peikert. Mrs. Berthelot lives in New Orleans but owns a home in Lakeshore called the Alamo. The home got the name after Hurricane Camille ripped through South Mississippi in 1969, leaving her Lakeshore home in ruins which resembled the Texan fortress. "We were in an 18-foot boat when the fish was hooked so we picked up anchor and allowed the fish to tow the boat for about five blocks out of Bayou Cadet," Mrs. Berthelot said. "When the fish tired enough, we landed him on light tackle," she added.

Hawks reign over Harrison tourney

The Hancock North Central Hawks came from behind to win the championship flight of the Harrison Central Invitational Basketball Tournament last week against Gulfport, 75-70.

The Hawks trailed by 14 points at one time during the first half Saturday, but rebounded with consecutive 21-point quarters in the third and final stanza to cap the victory over the Admirals.

Gulfport broke out for a 20-16 lead at the end of the opening period, but the Hawks clearly dominated the play during the second half, outscoring the Admirals 42-32.

Leading the scoring for Hancock was Moses Hill with 19 points, followed by Zachary Ladner with 14.

Byron Ladner netted 11 for the Hawks and Barry Arment put ten points through the hoop.

Gulfport's only double-figure scoring performance came from Gerald Selby with 29.

The Hawks now boast a 17-4 record for the season.

Bay boxers slate three home bouts

The Bay-Kiln-Waveland Boxing Club is in heavy training for three home bouts slated in February and March, according to Head Coach John Whisenhunt.

The first Amateur Athletic Union sanctioned match will take place in the Annunciation Catholic School Gymnasium Feb. 9 at 7 p.m., the second will be conducted at the Disabled American Veteran's Hall on Main Street later in February, and the third will be conducted in April in Pearlinton.

"There are two things which make the Kiln match so important. This is the last boxing match prior to the South Mississippi Golden Gloves, and every boxer will be trying very hard to win to keep the momentum going into the Golden Gloves Tournament Feb. 15-17 at the USM gym in Hattiesburg," Whisenhunt said.

"The second reason is that it has been 30 years since there has been a boxing match held in Kiln, according to Herbert Shiyou, a life-long native of Kiln," the coach continued.

"Mr. Shiyou also said this is the first AAU boxing match in Kiln history and every body is fired up about this one," Whisenhunt added.

Fighting in the main event in Kiln will be Todd Rooks, followed by 22 other bouts.

"Todd lives and goes to school in Kiln, and has been knocking off some big names in a three-state area," Whisenhunt said.

"Todd is known to smile in the ring during a bout, and this smiling coupled with his extreme aggressiveness while beating his opponent reminds many coaches of Roberto Duran," Whisenhunt said.

"Todd will be fighting Robert Morgan from the Saucier Club, who is six inches taller and five pounds heavier than Todd," he continued.

"Todd said that height and weight difference is fine, adding that gives him more to whip on," Whisenhunt quipped.

Another 23 card bout will be conducted in the DAV Hall on Main Street in Bay St. Louis in February, featuring Stanley (Snakes) Christmas in the main event.

Christmas is a silver gloves winner and has come up with some big victories since the Louisiana Silver Gloves competition.

The third home meet will be in the Charles B. Murphy gymnasium, led by Olympic hopeful Joe Louis Goodman, a native of Pearlinton.

Recently the club went to a two-day Jackson County Tournament and Club Member Earl Ainsworth Jr. made his debut as a pugilist.

Ainsworth, a 12-year-old, 65-pound student at Annunciation, battered Guy Allen of Gulfport for three one-minute rounds and won a unanimous decision.

"Ainsworth is the boxing club's secret weapon," the coach said.

Rooks, who made the alpha honor roll in school last week, fought to a heartbreaking decision against him in a match in Jackson.

He was defeated by Rodney Duren of the Biloxi Club.

Paul Williams, Goodman,

and Christmas all went opposed at the match.

Doctor M.J. Wolfe Sr. will oversee the home matches, according to Whisenhunt.

"Dr. Wolfe's first job out of medical school was to oversee the St. Stanislaus Boxing Team in the 1930's. He has had more than 45 years of experience and is an asset to all amateur sports in South Mississippi," Whisenhunt said.

Earl Ainsworth Sr. coached from the corner in the Jackson County tournament.

Pavolini wins invitational title

Joe Pavolini of the Hancock Boxing Club won the first Ocean Springs Invitational Tournament this past weekend as he went unopposed.

He weighed in at 106 pounds and was the only open boxer in that category.

Other pugilists to fight were Robert Mitchell, Sam Schoonmaker, James Bergious, and Chris Rees.

The local boxers did not fare to well as they attempted to defeat other club boxers, according to Head Coach Harvey Mitchell.

Pavolini has been invited to participate in a two day tournament in Greenville, Miss. against nationally ranked pugilists from teams as far away as Chicago, Ill. and Nashville, Tenn., according to Mitchell.

Upcoming bouts include trips to Saraland, Ala., Kenner, La., Gulfport, Biloxi, and Mobile, Ala.

The climax will occur when the entire team travels to USM in Hattiesburg to participate in the South Mississippi Golden Gloves competition.

Other coaches for the club are Larry Pavolini and Robert Mitchell Sr.

If you're like most folks, you're using your telephone a lot these days—to run errands and make appointments, to do your shopping, and to keep in touch with friends and members of the family both in and out of town.

When you stop to think of the countless steps, time, and money your telephone saves (the price is low, too)—and then remember that it's always ready to bring help in emergencies—you'll agree that in terms of service, cost, and value, the telephone is one of the real bargains in your budget.

When it comes to dealing with your friends, don't play hard to get. When you write to them, include your telephone number with your return address. That way, if they want, your friends can answer your letters with phone calls.

Since the telephone is usually the quickest way someone can contact you, it's a good idea to place your area code and telephone number on all correspondence.

The best idea yet: Why don't you call?

Half the fun of good news is sharing it. Whether it's a promotion, a new home, or a new baby, let folks know what's happening at your house.

A visit by long distance is the thoughtful way to reach out and keep in touch with friends or loved ones. Call often and share special moments.

To make your long distance calls as economically as possible, dial the One-Plus* way during discount periods and save. Check the Call-Guide pages in the front of your directory for the evening, night, and weekend discount time periods when rates are lowest.

*One-Plus rates do not apply to Zero-Plus dialed calls, operator handled calls, coin telephone calls, or calls from a hotel or motel.

Anything Goes regains lead

The Anything Goes team of the Hancock Women Bowling League dropped the Homesteaders from their number one standing to recover first place in that league.

Aiding in the reclamation of the top slot was Glenda Simpson with a 204 and a 524 series.

She received her 500 patch for the effort.

The Homesteaders were knocked from the top spot despite Sonja Harp's 517 series and Bess Owen's 482.

They trail Anything Goes by one game.

Shears Delight jumped to third with Gloria Dorman notching a 407 series, dropping the Good Times down to fourth place.

Liz Bryant is still kicking for the Good Times with a 428 series, however.

Ruth's Pin Pushers are in fifth and trying to gain on the Good Times. Also, the Lucky Sevens are in sixth place.

Trouble Shooters moved up a notch to seventh place and are shooting for higher scores and standings.

The Goff Offs dropped to eighth place by losing all four of their games this week.

The Blankety Blanks are in ninth place and managed to win three games this week with two players missing.

The Lucky Ladies are still in the cellar.

CONSERVATION CAN SAVE ENOUGH GAS FOR A CITY

Every cubic foot of natural gas wasted is energy gone forever — energy that American homes and industry cannot afford to lose. Not only because it is a limited resource, but also because the increase in natural gas prices has given this fuel a value it never had before.

Right now the short term supply outlook appears reasonably good. No one really knows how much gas remains to be discovered by a revitalized national exploration effort, but it is expected to extend natural gas reserves into the next century.

As a nation, however, we're still using up more gas than we're adding to our national reserves. We've been doing this for more than a decade. Under such circumstances, conservation assumes an unprece-dent importance.

Diligent conservation, shared by a conscientious citizenry and industry, can save enough gas to run a plant or a city. While United Gas is using every means available to attach new gas supplies to its system, consumers can help. Frugality in the use of our natural resources can be highly beneficial.

Many years ago the nation in general paid little attention to the conservation of a resource that was so cheap. But the price of natural gas has risen — and is still rising — toward its true value. It isn't cheap anymore. And as this cost continues to rise, the cost of waste rises with it.

Waste doesn't have to happen.
